

WHY DO THIS COURSE?

This course is recommended for all SAR personnel active in the field. The SAR First Aid course is an introduction to patient management and first aid priorities. The course is aimed at giving you the skills to be able to assess a patient and manage the situation until help or evacuation arrives. The aim of the course is to “Never Make the Situation Worse”.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The overall objective of the SAR First Aid course is to manage personal, group and patient priorities at the scene of an accident. It will also enable you to be part of the management process including performing first aid after assessing patient priorities.

By the end of this course you should be able to;

- Understand the importance of managing personal priorities and first aid priorities at the scene.
- Demonstrate a range of first aid skills
- Demonstrate radio protocol and correct recording of vital signs
- Demonstrate management of a patient in the outdoors
- Demonstrate correct message procedure in a first aid emergency
- Perform CPR in an emergency situation

Completing this course can be accredited towards a SAR qualification.

COST

Full course $50 per person. Applies to those persons who have not previously completed an approved First Aid course or have attended such a course but attendance was over 2 years 3 months ago.

Refresher course $30 per person. Applies to those persons who have previously completed an approved First Aid course and who will attend the refresher course within 2 years 3 months of the initial course.

Evidence of completion will be taken from a student’s NZQA ‘record of achievement’. Other forms of evidence may be required to demonstrate that the course meets Department of Labour requirements.

Fees will be payable to TPP and invoiced directly to the student or the organisation who has agreed (in writing before the course) to pay on behalf of the students (e.g. LandSAR) - see SARINZ website for booking requirements.

WHAT NEXT
